Back On the Chain Gang

Released as single by Sire Records in November 1982. It reached number five on the Billboard Hot 100, becoming the band's only Top 5 hit in the U.S..

The song was originally going to be about Ray Davies, leader of the band The Kinks. Lead vocalist & guitarist Chrissie Hynde and Davies were a couple and had a daughter together, but the meaning of the song changed after James Honeyman-Scott, the Pretenders guitarist, died of a drug overdose at the age of 25 in 1982.
